MICHAEL HARRIS

VOCALIST AND PERFORMER

When Michael Harris steps onto a stage, he instantly captivates the audience! When he begins to sing, each note is delivered with raw emotion resonating deeply with everyone in the room. The crowd is mesmerized, hanging on every word, as his soulful performance leaves an unforgettable impression, evoking both admiration and awe.

MICHAEL was born and raised in Richmond, Virginia, and grew up listening to his mother's favorite artists: Mahalia Jackson, Reverend James Cleveland, the Mighty Clouds of Joy, Larry Graham, Marvin Gaye, and Teddy Pendergrass. Growing up, he was inspired by Larry Graham and Barry White who had deep toned voices which made it easy for him to learn their songs. Other favorite artists include Al Green, Gerald Levert, and Anthony Hamilton.

MUSIC IS THERAPEUTIC

Says Michael, "Music is therapeutic for me. It helps me get through a lot. When the down times are here, it brings me back up." He is driven by the desire to inspire others through his music and to continue evolving as an artist.

This talented vocalist and performer has a deep passion for entertaining audiences, captivating them with his powerful voice and engaging presence.

Off the stage, Michael is a devoted husband and father, finding his greatest joy in the love of his family.

With unwavering support from his wife and children, he continues to pursue his artistic journey, always grateful for the encouragement he receives from his communities. His music is not only an expression of his talent but also a reflection of his love for the people who have stood by him throughout his career.

Last but not least, Michael is celebrating his retirement from the United States Army and he's ready to take his musical talents to the next level.
